

JavaScript Code

```
1 Teachable Machine Image Model
2 <button type="button" onclick="init()">Start</button>
3
4
5 <script src="https://cdn.jsdelivr.net/npm/@tensorflow/tfjs@latest/dist/tf.min.js">
  </script>
6 <script
  src="https://cdn.jsdelivr.net/npm/@teachablemachine/image@latest/dist/teachablemachineimage.min.js"></script>
7 <script type="text/javascript">
8   // More API functions here:
9   // https://github.com/googlecreativelab/teachablemachine-
  community/tree/master/libraries/image
10
11   // the link to your model provided by Teachable Machine export panel
12   const URL = "https://teachablemachine.withgoogle.com/models/Bkh00yW0b/";
13
14   let model, webcam, labelContainer, maxPredictions;
15
16   // Load the image model and setup the webcam
17   async function init() {
18     const modelURL = URL + "model.json";
19     const metadataURL = URL + "metadata.json";
20
21     // load the model and metadata
22     // Refer to tmImage.loadFromFiles() in the API to support files from a file picker
23     // or files from your local hard drive
24     // Note: the pose library adds "tmImage" object to your window (window.tmImage)
25     model = await tmImage.load(modelURL, metadataURL);
26     maxPredictions = model.getTotalClasses();
27
28     // Convenience function to setup a webcam
29     const flip = true; // whether to flip the webcam
30     webcam = new tmImage.Webcam(200, 200, flip); // width, height, flip
31     await webcam.setup(); // request access to the webcam
32     await webcam.play();
33     window.requestAnimationFrame(loop);
34
35     // append elements to the DOM
36     document.getElementById("webcam-container").appendChild(webcam.canvas);
37     labelContainer = document.getElementById("label-container");
38     for (let i = 0; i < maxPredictions; i++) { // and class labels
39       labelContainer.appendChild(document.createElement("div"));
40     }
41   }
42
43   async function loop() {
44     webcam.update(); // update the webcam frame
45     await predict();
```

```
46         window.requestAnimationFrame(loop);
47     }
48
49     // run the webcam image through the image model
50     async function predict() {
51         // predict can take in an image, video or canvas html element
52         const prediction = await model.predict(webcam.canvas);
53         for (let i = 0; i < maxPredictions; i++) {
54             const classPrediction =
55                 prediction[i].className + ": " + prediction[i].probability.toFixed(2);
56             labelContainer.childNodes[i].innerHTML = classPrediction;
57         }
58     }
59 </script>
60
```